

purchasingprogramupdate

We know every penny we can save you goes back into fulfilling your mission and the people you serve. This is why we work to uncover opportunities to help you get more for less, tapping the power of our combined value whenever we can. Isn't that what the power of community is all about?

In 2009, we recognized that many of our members had growing economic concerns that you needed help addressing, now and into the future. We produced audio conferences, built an Economy Forum and presented education sessions to assist you. But, still, we knew we could do more to help you reduce your operating costs without compromising the care and services you give to residents.

Step by step, together, we are transforming the way purchasing is done in our communities, and this year is no different!

Come hear about program changes developed with the help of members, your state associations, AAHSA and our business partners.
